Tell BSB about your relationship with barristers

18 November 2024

The Bar Standards Board (BSB) is carrying out research on how solicitors work with barristers.

It is currently working with the Centre for Strategy and Evaluation Services (CSES) to explore solicitors' approaches when selecting a barrister for their clients, examining their experiences of working with barristers, and outlining their expectations of barristers' work.

You might be contacted by CSES asking you to fill in a short survey. Or if you want to complete the survey without waiting for an invite, you can find it here:

By contributing to this research, you can help shape future BSB policy.
