Have your say to help education research

27 March 2023

In 2021, we commissioned the University of Exeter's Schools of Law and Business to carry out research looking at certain aspects of professional education experiences. This research is being led by Professor Greta Bosch and should increase understanding for us and training providers alike.

As part of the research, the University of Exeter is looking for individuals who have completed the Legal Practice Course (LPC) recently to fill out an online survey and share their experiences and viewpoints.

This is a great opportunity for you to have your say and contribute to potential support for students, and about the barriers and opportunities for students. The survey will take 25-30 minutes to complete.

All responses analysed by the University of Exeter are completely anonymous, the content of responses cannot be matched to individuals.
